TRAVEL SECTION OF THE YEAR

PALMA CHAMELEON

The Canaries gem that's all things to all people

Half term AHoy!

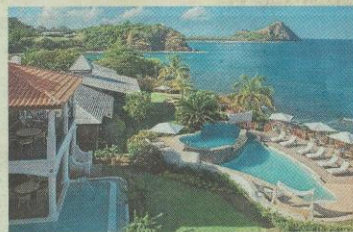

Castles and Caribbean pirate cruises are among the most exciting half-term travel adventures, says Richard Mellor

Best for outdoorsy families CARIBBEAN CORSAIRS

First, let your kids watch Pirates Of The Caribbean: Salazar's Revenge when it's released on May 26, just before half-term. Then fly the would-be Jack Sparrows to St Lucia for their own pirate adventures. Sailing aboard the replica galleon Black Magic, kids can dress up as buccaneers, fire cannons, swing from the yardarm and even walk the plank. Then there's the Pigeon Island Treasure Hunt, led by a resident pirate. Both can be arranged for guests of swanky Cap Maison, as can rainforest trips on St Lucia's Aerial Tram. The resort also has its own beach and three acres of tropical grounds.

Seven nights from £11,000 B&B per family of four, including flights and transfers, turquoiseholidays.co.uk
